

When was High Noon made?

How many academy awards did this picture win?

High Noon resembled history in the making when they were filming it and it was made during the congressional investigation into the _____?

Some people found this movie un _____.

Zimmerman was always attracted to people facing a crisis of _____.

It was made for $ _____ in _____ days.

They wanted the film to look real like a _____ or a _____ so they filmed it in black and white even though color was available.

He had no formal acting training, but _____ was cast as the Sheriff.

_____ was cast as the Sheriff's wife. She was an unknown.

Due to a tight filming schedule, Zimmerman used _____ to plot out every key shot--including staging and camera movement.

3 Basic elements that helped to raise suspense.

1

2

3

Why did they have to film the fight scene twice?

How did they achieve the train shot with the black smoke? Why is it special?

What makes the music revolutionary for this film?

The film's story is so _____, so _____ that it continues to impress people that discover it for the first time.